

Mountains

Four mountains numbered among Japan's 100 famous mountains. These peaks full of sharply defined uniqueness will thrill your heart.

1 Mt. Shibutsu (2,228m)

One of Japan's 100 famous mountains

A mountain that is at the very heart of the landscape of Ozegahara. Revered as a treasure house of alpine flora, it is home to ozeso (Japonolirion) flowers, which only exist here and in two other places in all Japan.

1 Mt. Nikkoshirane (2,578m)

One of Japan's 100 famous mountains

Boasts the highest peak north of Kanto at 2,578m. Between the surrounding peaks you can see the beautiful lakes of Goshikinuma and Midagake.

1 Mt. Hotaka (2,158m)

One of Japan's 100 famous mountains

Renowned as a sacred mountain worshiped from ancient times. From the peak with its statue of Prince Yamatotakerunomikoto, you can experience a 360-degree view encompassing Mt. Shibutsu, Mt. Nikkoshirane and more.

1 Mt. Hiuchigatake (2,356m)

One of Japan's 100 famous mountains

The highest of the peaks surrounding Oze, and in a sense the most symbolic image of Oze. The landscape of Oze as seen from this peak brings you a new sense of wonder.

Tomorokoshi Road

The Higashiogawa section of Route 120 (approximately four kilometers) is called "Tomorokoshi (Corn) Road," and is lined with stalls offering roast corn, local mushrooms and other farm products. Space for a short rest is also available.

Flowers

Katashina Village is famous for its flowers. View the flowers that bloom in the four seasons to create a memorable journey.

1 Hotaka Bokujo Fireweed (Late July to early August)

Fireweed (yanagiran in Japanese) is a sign that summer has truly come to Mt. Hotaka. The 300,000 fireweeds that dye Sangodaira burgundy-red are truly a sight to see.

1 Hariyama Tennesakura (Late April to early May)

A single cherry tree estimated to be over 300 years old that is a natural treasure of Katashina Village. When lit up it can be appreciated as a fantastical night cherry tree.

1 Hotaka Bokujo Japanese Azalea (Mid-June to late June)

Delight in the end-to-end redness of the Sangodaira area at an altitude of 1,500m from the 20,000 Japanese azaleas (rengetsutsuji), natural treasures of Gunma.

1 Marunuma Kogen Japanese Wood Poppy (Early June to late June)

Japanese wood poppy (shiraneaoi), the queen of mountain wildflowers. Their contrast with the magnificent landscape of the Nikkoshirane Rock Garden is a breathtaking sight.

1 Koshimoto Mizubasho (Late April to early May)

A forest of 15,000 mizubasho. They are lit up during the Golden Week vacation period, giving a wonderful view of mizubasho at night.
